Possessive adjectives and pronouns

Say the questions.
Then answer the questions with possessive adjectives – his, her, their

Whose bread is that? That's her bread.

Whose baby is that?

Whose walking stick is that?

Whose phone is that?

Whose blue bag is that?

Whose debit card is that?

Whose baby buggy is that?

Whose yellow jacket is that?

Whose pink bag is that?

Pretend you are talking to the people. Use my, your, our and answer the questions again. 'That's your walking stick.' 'That's my phone.' 'That's our baby.'

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Answer the questions again using personal pronouns mine, yours, his, hers, ours, theirs Choose the correct answer.

Whose bread is that? That's her. That's mine. That's your.

Whose baby is that? That's hers. That's my. That's our.

Whose walking stick is that? That's him. That's his. That's your.

Whose phone is that? That's mine. That's our. That's her.

Whose blue bag is that? That's your. That's hers. That's her.

Whose debit card is that? That's he. That's him. That's his.

Whose baby buggy is that? That's their. That's them. That's theirs.

Whose yellow jacket is that? That's my. That's his. That's her.

Whose pink bag is that? That's your. That's yours. That's my.

Ask the questions a different way.

'Is that my bread?' 'No, it's hers.'

'Is that your phone?' 'Yes, it's mine.'

Ask yourself questions today! Then answer them in different ways.

Whose scarf is that? Whose T-Shirt is that? Whose baskets are those?

Whose children are those? Use the text box to write the answers.

LIVEWORKSHEETS