A Holiday to Remember

Last month, my family and I spent an enjoyable holiday in Perak. We stayed at the naval base in Lumut.

The base is very big. There are about 39 blocks of high-rise flats, each ten storeys high. More than 20 000 people live there. They come from all over the country. There are people from every state in Malaysia who live together in the Lumut Naval Base.

My uncle is in the navy. He showed us around the base. He also took us on a ship called K.D. Kasturi. I was lucky because it was the ship's Family Day. We were all taken on a day trip on the ship. It was fantastic!

I made many new friends at the base. We had a fun time wandering around the base and playing games. We also had the chance to use the large and modern sports complex in the base.

As the naval base is at Teluk Batik, we went to the beach every day. Teluk Batik is a popular picnic spot.

I was very sad when our holiday came to an end.

Helping in the Orchard

My family and I visited my grandparents in Tambun. It is a small town just outside Ipoh. It is famous for its pomeloos.

My grandparents were delighted to see us. They have a large orchard with pomelo, durian, and rambutan trees. My grandmother also rears chickens, especially for their eggs.

It is really great to be at my grandparents' home during the fruit season. We usually go there with our cousins during the school holidays. We have such a great fun. We help my grandfather pick the durian fruits and sell them at his roadside stall. Many people stop to buy the fruits.

During the fruit season, my grandparents welcome the extra hands. My grandfather is not as strong as he used to be, so we help him as much as we can. Some of his neighbours and their children also lend a helping hand during their free time.

The work is not easy but we enjoy ourselves tremendously. We also help ourselves to all the fruits in the orchard. After a hard day's work, my grandmother pampers us with a delicious meal. She makes the best nasi lemak!

For a city boy like me, a holiday in the kampung is always a treat.
