

HUMAN LIFE CYCLE

1. Label the pictures with the corresponding word:

foetus teenager baby toddler preschooler old person school boy young adult older adult middle-aged adult

2. Listen and write the word:

- a.  _____
- b.  _____
- c.  _____
- d.  _____

e.

f.

3. Complete the blanks with the words: Old, baby, Childhood, adolescents, foetus, adults.

A _____ is the stage after around nine months (sometimes a bit longer; sometimes a bit less) the mother gives birth.

Although eighteen and nineteen end in 'teen', people of this age are actually now _____.

_____ are more independent than children; for instance, they can get jobs to earn money for themselves and can learn to drive at seventeen.

A _____ grows in the womb surrounded by liquid and gets its nutrition through a tube called the umbilical cord.

_____ people are not as strong as when they were younger and get tired more easily.

_____ is a stage between three and five years old, children start to go to nursery and to school.