

LET'S CHECK GRAMMAR

FUTURE TENSE: WILL

USE	STRUCTURE	EXAMPLES
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Predictions about the future. Instant decisions. 	Will + verb	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I will eat. He will eat. I'll study. She'll study. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I won't eat. He won't eat. I won't study. She won't study. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Will I eat? Will he eat? Will you study? Will she study?

FUTURE TENSE: GOING TO

USE	STRUCTURE	EXAMPLES
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Predictions Something already planned. Intentions 	am / is / are + going to + verb	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I am going to eat. He is going to eat. I'm gonna eat. She's gonna eat. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> I am not going to eat. He is not going to eat. I'm not going to eat. She's not going to eat. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Am I going to eat? Is he going to eat? Are we going to eat?

- Use "will" or "going to" to complete the following sentences.
 - Students _____ (visit) the museum next week.
 - My father _____ (be) 50 in May.
 - My sister is unemployed, she _____ (apply) for some option.
 - I _____ (move) to the university next year.
 - My sister _____ (marry), my parents are very happy.
 - It is very dark and cloudy, it _____ (rain).
 - I'm hungry, I _____ (buy) some food.
 - The teacher _____ (help) next quarter, she promised.
- Complete the sentences using the negative form of "will" and "going to".
 - I think that artist _____ become famous in Europe.
 - I believe she _____ date Thomas again.
 - Students _____ get in trouble after that mess.
 - Jeff _____ have problems to make new friends.
 - Steven _____ invite more than 50 people to the party.
 - Daniel _____ dance in the arts festival.