

Con el mouse arrastra el nombre de cada parte de la de la ventana al lugar que le corresponda.

The image shows a Google Chrome browser window with several parts labeled with empty boxes and red arrows pointing to them:

- Barra de título (Title bar): Points to the top bar containing the text "Google".
- Barra de direcciones (Address bar): Points to the address bar showing "google.com".
- Barra de estado (Status bar): Points to the bottom bar showing "México".
- Minimizar tamaño (Minimize size): Points to the minimize button in the top right corner.
- Minimizar (Minimize): Points to the maximize button in the top right corner.
- Cerrar (Close): Points to the close button in the top right corner.

Below the browser window, there are six empty boxes for labeling:

- Box 1: Points to the title bar.
- Box 2: Points to the address bar.
- Box 3: Points to the status bar.
- Box 4: Points to the minimize button.
- Box 5: Points to the maximize button.
- Box 6: Points to the close button.

At the bottom of the page, there is a footer with the text "Ofrecido por Google en: Español (Latinoamérica)" and a list of links: "Sobre Google", "Publicidad", "Negocios", "Cómo funciona la Búsqueda", "Privacidad", "Condiciones", and "Preferencias".