

Match these phrasal verbs with their definitions to telephone someone again, or to telephone someone who telephoned you earlier to talk to someone you have not seen for some time and find out what they have been doing to discover a fact or piece of information to start using a computer system, for example by typing a particular word to stop a piece of equipment working temporarily to search for someone or something to try to find a particular piece of information by looking in a book or on a list, or by using a computer to start something such as a business, organization, or institution to increase the amount of sound, heat, or light produced by a piece of equipment catch up

log on look for turn off

set up

look up

find out

call back

turn up