

TEST 2

Question 1. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the word whose underlined part differs from the other three in pronunciation in each of the following questions.

- A. generation B. grandparents C. grateful D. educate

Question 2. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the word whose underlined part differs from the other three in pronunciation in each of the following questions.

- A. comment B. patent C. talent D. aliment

Question 3. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the word that differs from the other three in the position of primary stress in each of the following questions.

- A. stomach B. digest C. nervous D. poultry

Question 4. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the word that differs from the other three in the position of primary stress in each of the following questions.

- A. contribute B. evidence C. homemaker D. meaningful

Question 5. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the most suitable response to complete each of the following exchanges.

Mary: "Do you know what the saying "kick a habit" means?"

Tom: " _____ "

- A. Wow, She has a good habit
B. I think it has the same meaning to getting rid of a habit
C. I don't mean that
D. Are you kidding?

Question 6. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the most suitable response to complete each of the following exchanges.

George: I need to stop eating such unhealthy foods.

Bon: _____

- A. That sounds delicious and nutritious.
B. I know what you mean. I've started eating better myself.
C. I mainly eat baked chicken, because there's not a lot of fat.
D. Are you sure that's how you want me to make it?

Question 7. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the word(s) CLOSEST in meaning to the underlined word(s) in each of the following sentences.

Nowadays, there is estimated to be more than 2000 acupoints throughout the human body. The underlined word has the closest meaning to:

- A. stress
B. pressure points
C. paints
D. lines

Question 8. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the word(s) CLOSEST in meaning to the underlined word(s) in each of the following sentences.

Women whose husbands do not contribute to household chores are more vulnerable to illness. The underlined word has the closest meaning to:

- A. happy
B. easy to be hurt
C. hard
D. friendly

Question 9: Mark the letter A, B, C, D to indicate the word(s) OPPOSITE in meaning to the underlined word(s) in each of the following question.

When all family members split equally the housework duties, it creates a positive atmosphere for the family

- A. sociable
- B. vulnerable
- C. responsible
- D. negative

Question 10: Mark the letter A, B, C, D to indicate the word(s) OPPOSITE in meaning to the underlined word(s) in each of the following question.

Aromatherapy is believed to promote the body's natural healing capabilities

- A. boosting
- B. encouraging
- C. discouraging
- D. increasing

Question 11. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

The system that works as the control panel of the body in the _____ system

- A. skeletal
- B. digestive
- C. nervous
- D. circulatory

Question 12. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

_____ involves the insertion of extremely thin needles through your skin at strategic point on your body to treat pain.

- A. Herb
- B. Traditional therapy
- C. Acupuncture
- D. Massage therapy

Question 13. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

One of my relatives is _____ to garlic.

- A. stimulating
- B. stressful
- C. sensitive
- D. allergic

Question 14. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

My younger brother and elder sister _____ turns laying the table for meals and sweeping the house.

- A. perform
- B. split
- C. take
- D. kick

Question 15. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Van Cao's Tien Quan Ca was made into the _____ of the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam.

- A. national song
- B. traditional music
- C. melody
- D. national anthem

Question 16. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

The sharing of a family's life stories can be thought provoking and ____ for children, helping them learn, formulate a sense of identity, and put their own experiences into perspective.

- A. benefit
- B. beneficial
- C. beneficiary
- D. benefits

Question 17. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

My headache was still painful, _____ I went to see a doctor.

- A. but
- B. for
- C. so
- D. or

Question 18. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

No longer did Pokémon Go become the widespread ____ in Viet Nam.

- A. effect
- B. phenomenon
- C. invention
- D. news

Question 19. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Women's role is supposed to take care of their kids. The word "taken care of" is closet in meaning to ____

- A. looked after
- B. involved in
- C. take after
- D. moved in

Question 20. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Last year, her ailment was really ____, but now it is much better thanks to some expensive medicines.

- A. hopeful
- B. hopefulness
- C. hoped
- D. hopeless

Question 21. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Jenny often ____ uniform at school but she ____ a flashy dress today.

- A. wear - is wearing
- B. is wearing – wears
- C. wears - is wearing
- D. wears - wears

Question 22. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

I am afraid he can't go out with you right now. He _____ his hair cut.

- A. is having
- B. has
- C. has had
- D. had

Question 23. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Why do you need so much sugar ? – I _____ a cake.

- A. will make
- B. am going to make
- C. makes
- D. will be making

Question 24. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Mary: Oh, I've just realized I haven't got any money.

Sue: Haven't you? Well, don't worry _____ you some.

- A. I'll lend
- B. I'm going to lend
- C. I lend
- D. I'm lending

Question 25. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Dad makes me _____ the car every Sunday.

- A. washing
- B. to wash
- C. wash
- D. to washing

Question 26. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

My teacher advises me _____ more time _____ outdoors.

- A. to spend/ playing
- B. spending /playing
- C. to spend / to play
- D. spending/ playing

Question 27. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

Everyone wants _____ and _____.

- A. to love/ to be loving
- B. to love/ loving
- C. loving/ to be loved
- D. to love/ to be loved

Question 28. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the sentence that best combines each pair of sentences in the following questions.

I was so busy. I couldn't come to her birthday party.

- A. I came to her birthday party so I was too busy.
- B. I was too busy to come to her birthday party.
- C. I was busy enough to come to her birthday party.
- D. Her birthday party made me really busy.

Question 29. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the sentence that is closest in meaning to each of the following questions.

My siblings clean the house once a week.

- A. The house is clean by my siblings once a week.
- B. The house is cleans by my siblings once a week.
- C. The house was cleaned by my siblings.
- D. The house is cleaned by my siblings once a week.

Question 30. Mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the sentence that is closest in meaning to each of the following questions.

It's possible that our family won't attend the rock concert this Sunday.

- A. Our family may not attend the rock concert this Sunday.
- B. Our family will probably attend the rock concert this Sunday.
- C. Our family will not attend the rock concert this Sunday.
- D. Our family must not attend the rock concert this Sunday.

Question 31. NUMBERED BLANK 31

Read and complete the following passage with the most suitable word or phrase given:

There are two things that make (31) different from all other animals. They are (32) Music is clearly different from language. However, people can use it (33).....- especially their emotions. Like reading, writing and speaking, music can express ideas, thoughts and feelings. It can express one's anger, love, hate or friendship; it can also convey one's hopes and dreams.

Music is very much an integral part of our life. It is played during almost all important events and on special occasions and sets the tone for them. It adds joyfulness to the atmosphere of a festival and makes a funeral more solemn and mournful. Music (34) babies to sleep at night and wakes students up in the morning.

In fact, music as entertainment has always been a big business. It is a billion-dollar industry. It is difficult (35).....what our lives would be like without music.

- A. humans
- B. people
- C. persons
- D. things

Question 32. NUMBERED BLANK 32

Read and complete the following passage with the most suitable word or phrase given:

There are two things that make (31) different from all other animals. They are (32) Music is clearly different from language. However, people can use it (33).....- especially their emotions. Like reading, writing and speaking, music can express ideas, thoughts and feelings. It can express one's anger, love, hate or friendship; it can also convey one's hopes and dreams.

Music is very much an integral part of our life. It is played during almost all important events and on special occasions and sets the tone for them. It adds joyfulness to the atmosphere of a festival and makes a funeral more solemn and mournful. Music (34) babies to sleep at night and wakes students up in the morning.

In fact, music as entertainment has always been a big business. It is a billion-dollar industry. It is difficult (35).....what our lives would be like without music.

- A. language
- B. music
- C. love
- D. music and language

Question 33. NUMBERED BLANK 33

Read and complete the following passage with the most suitable word or phrase given:

There are two things that make (31) different from all other animals. They are (32) Music is clearly different from language. However, people can use it (33).....- especially their emotions. Like reading, writing and speaking, music can express ideas, thoughts and feelings. It can express one's anger, love, hate or friendship; it can also convey one's hopes and dreams.

Music is very much an integral part of our life. It is played during almost all important events and on special occasions and sets the tone for them. It adds joyfulness to the atmosphere of a festival and makes a funeral more solemn and mournful. Music (34) babies to sleep at night and wakes students up in the morning.

In fact, music as entertainment has always been a big business. It is a billion-dollar industry. It is difficult (35).....what our lives would be like without music.

- A. to communicate
- B. communication
- C. communicating
- D. communicate

Question 34. NUMBERED BLANK 34

Read and complete the following passage with the most suitable word or phrase given:

There are two things that make (31) different from all other animals. They are (32) Music is clearly different from language. However, people can use it (33).....- especially their emotions. Like reading, writing and speaking, music can express ideas, thoughts and feelings. It can express one's anger, love, hate or friendship; it can also convey one's hopes and dreams.

Music is very much an integral part of our life. It is played during almost all important events and on special occasions and sets the tone for them. It adds joyfulness to the atmosphere of a festival and makes a funeral more solemn and mournful. Music (34) babies to sleep at night and wakes students up in the morning.

In fact, music as entertainment has always been a big business. It is a billion-dollar industry. It is difficult (35).....what our lives would be like without music.

- A. lulling B. lull C. lulls D. lulled

Question 35. NUMBERED BLANK 35

Read and complete the following passage with the most suitable word or phrase given:

There are two things that make (31) different from all other animals. They are (32) Music is clearly different from language. However, people can use it (33).....- especially their emotions. Like reading, writing and speaking, music can express ideas, thoughts and feelings. It can express one's anger, love, hate or friendship; it can also convey one's hopes and dreams.

Music is very much an integral part of our life. It is played during almost all important events and on special occasions and sets the tone for them. It adds joyfulness to the atmosphere of a festival and makes a funeral more solemn and mournful. Music (34) babies to sleep at night and wakes students up in the morning.

In fact, music as entertainment has always been a big business. It is a billion-dollar industry. It is difficult (35).....what our lives would be like without music.

- A. imagine B. to imagine C. imagining D. to be imagined

Question 36: Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

A recent study shows that an unequal share of household chores is still the norm in many households, despite the fact that many more women now have jobs. In a survey of 1,256 people ages between 18 and 65, men said they contributed an average of 37 per cent of the total housework, while the women estimated their share to be nearly double that, at 70 per cent. This ratio was not affected by whether the woman was working or not.

When they were asked what they thought was a fair division of labor, women with jobs felt that housework should be shared equally between male and female partners. Women who did not work outside the home were satisfied to perform 80 per cent - the majority of the household work - if their husbands did the remainder. Research has shown that, if levels increase beyond these percentages, women become unhappy and anxious, and feel they are unimportant.

After marriage, a woman is reported to increase her household workload by 14 hours per week, but for men the amount is just 90 minutes. So the division of labor becomes unbalanced, as a man's share increases much less than the woman's. It is the inequality and loss of respect, not the actual number of hours, which leads to anxiety and depression. The research describes housework as thankless and unfulfilling. Activities included in the study were cooking, cleaning, shopping, doing laundry, washing-up and childcare. Women who have jobs report that they feel overworked by these chores in addition to their professional duties. In contrast, full-time homemakers frequently anticipate going back to work when the children grow up. Distress for this group is caused by losing the teamwork in the marriage.

The word "remainder" in paragraph 2 is closest in meaning to _____.

- A. what is left
B. what is done
C. what is fulfilled.
D. what is shared

Question 37: Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

A recent study shows that an unequal share of household chores is still the norm in many households, despite the fact that many more women now have jobs. In a survey of 1,256 people ages between 18 and 65, men said they contributed an average of 37 per cent of the total housework, while the women estimated their share to be nearly double that, at 70 per cent. This ratio was not affected by whether the woman was working or not.

When they were asked what they thought was a fair division of labor, women with jobs felt that housework should be shared equally between male and female partners. Women who did not work outside the home were satisfied to perform 80 per cent - the majority of the household work - if their husbands did the remainder. Research has shown that, if levels increase beyond these percentages, women become unhappy and anxious, and feel they are unimportant.

After marriage, a woman is reported to increase her household workload by 14 hours per week, but for men the amount is just 90 minutes. So the division of labor becomes unbalanced, as a man's share increases much less than the woman's. It is the inequality and loss of respect, not the actual number of hours, which leads to anxiety and depression. The research describes housework as thankless and unfulfilling. Activities included in the study were cooking, cleaning, shopping, doing laundry, washing-up and childcare. Women who have jobs report that they feel overworked by these chores in addition to their professional duties. In contrast, full-time homemakers frequently anticipate going back to work when the children grow up. Distress for this group is caused by losing the teamwork in the marriage.

Although women think men should share the housework, those who do not have a paid job share _____ of the chores.

- A. 37 per cent
- B. 70 per cent
- C. 80 per cent
- D. 14 per cent

Question 38: Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

A recent study shows that an unequal share of household chores is still the norm in many households, despite the fact that many more women now have jobs. In a survey of 1,256 people ages between 18 and 65, men said they contributed an average of 37 per cent of the total housework, while the women estimated their share to be nearly double that, at 70 per cent. This ratio was not affected by whether the woman was working or not.

When they were asked what they thought was a fair division of labor, women with jobs felt that housework should be shared equally between male and female partners. Women who did not work outside the home were satisfied to perform 80 per cent - the majority of the household work - if their husbands did the remainder. Research has shown that, if levels increase beyond these percentages, women become unhappy and anxious, and feel they are unimportant.

After marriage, a woman is reported to increase her household workload by 14 hours per week, but for men the amount is just 90 minutes. So the division of labor becomes unbalanced, as a man's share increases much less than the woman's. It is the inequality and loss of respect, not the actual number of hours, which leads to anxiety and depression. The research describes housework as thankless and unfulfilling. Activities included in the study were cooking, cleaning, shopping, doing laundry, washing-up and childcare. Women who have jobs report that they feel overworked by these chores in addition to their professional duties. In contrast, full-time homemakers frequently anticipate going back to work when the children grow up. Distress for this group is caused by losing the teamwork in the marriage.

It can be inferred from the passage that after getting married, _____.

- A. men spend much less time doing the housework than women
- B. women do twice as much housework as men
- C. men do more housework than women
- D. women do less and less housework

Question 39: Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

A recent study shows that an unequal share of household chores is still the norm in many households, despite the fact that many more women now have jobs. In a survey of 1,256 people ages between 18 and 65, men said they contributed an average of 37 per cent of the total housework, while the women estimated their share to be nearly double that, at 70 per cent. This ratio was not affected by whether the woman was working or not.

When they were asked what they thought was a fair division of labor, women with jobs felt that housework should be shared equally between male and female partners. Women who did not work outside the home were satisfied to perform 80 per cent - the majority of the household work - if their husbands did the remainder. Research has shown that, if levels increase beyond these percentages, women become unhappy and anxious, and feel they are unimportant.

After marriage, a woman is reported to increase her household workload by 14 hours per week, but for men the amount is just 90 minutes. So the division of labor becomes unbalanced, as a man's share increases much less than the woman's. It is the inequality and loss of respect, not the actual number of hours, which leads to anxiety and depression. The research describes housework as thankless and unfulfilling. Activities included in the study were cooking, cleaning, shopping, doing laundry, washing-up and childcare. Women who have jobs report that they feel overworked by these chores in addition to their professional duties. In contrast, full-time homemakers frequently anticipate going back to work when the children grow up. Distress for this group is caused by losing the teamwork in the marriage.

Women who do not have jobs become depressed _____.

- A. if their husbands do 20 per cent of the chores
- B. if they have to do more than half of the housework
- C. because they have no self-respect
- D. when their husbands do not help them

Question 40: Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions.

A recent study shows that an unequal share of household chores is still the norm in many households, despite the fact that many more women now have jobs. In a survey of 1,256 people ages between 18 and 65, men said they contributed an average of 37 per cent of the total housework, while the women estimated their share to be nearly double that, at 70 per cent. This ratio was not affected by whether the woman was working or not.

When they were asked what they thought was a fair division of labor, women with jobs felt that housework should be shared equally between male and female partners. Women who did not work outside the home were satisfied to perform 80 per cent - the majority of the household work - if their husbands did the remainder. Research has shown that, if levels increase beyond these percentages, women become unhappy and anxious, and feel they are unimportant.

After marriage, a woman is reported to increase her household workload by 14 hours per week, but for men the amount is just 90 minutes. So the division of labor becomes unbalanced, as a man's share increases much less than the woman's. It is the inequality and loss of respect, not the actual number of hours, which leads to anxiety and depression. The research describes housework as thankless and unfulfilling. Activities included in the study were cooking, cleaning, shopping, doing laundry, washing-up and childcare. Women who have jobs report that they feel overworked by these chores in addition to their professional duties. In contrast, full-time homemakers frequently anticipate going back to work when the children grow up. Distress for this group is caused by losing the teamwork in the marriage.

The word norm in paragraph 1 is closest in meaning to _____.

- A. strange thing
- B. usual thing
- C. changing thing
- D. unequal thing

-----The end-----