Read the passage. Then choose the correct answer.

Today, we see many pictures made of pixels. We see them on TV and computer screens. Pixels are small dots of colored light.

Using dots to make pictures is an old idea. Artists have done it for a long time. Georges Seurat was an artist in the 1800s. He made paintings with dots.

Look at his paintings from far away. You see a beautiful picture. Then come closer. Look again. You just see dots!
