

Location, location, location

Listen to Richard and Jackie, who are talking in this podcast about a couple of friends who want to buy a new house. For each question, choose the correct answer.

Where did the idea for this podcast's topic come from?

- They had some friends over
- Their friends have bought a new house
- They're thinking of moving somewhere else

Their friends want to

- Downsize because they don't need as much space
- A bigger house for when their children come to visit
- A mid-sized house to work remotely

They want the house to be located

- downtown with all restaurants and facilities as close as possible
- the nearest possible to the school where she works
- either in the countryside or in a place with a lot of green spaces

The neighbours they have at the moment

- are quite noisy
- are very kind
- aren't very friendly

They're looking for a south-facing house

- because they're cheaper
- because of the sun
- because of the view

They would like to buy a modern house

- with the latest top-notch appliances
- with huge rooms to entertain
- with central heating

According to Richard and Jackie, their friends

- could end up staying where they are
- will have to settle for something they can afford
- might be asking them for advice in the near future
