Hurricane Delta Hits Louisiana
NFK Editors - October 11, 2020

Hurricane Delta hit the state of Louisiana on Friday night, leaving over half a million people without electricity. Though Delta slowed down by the time it made landfall in Creole, Louisiana, it still hit with 100 mile-per-hour (160 kilometer-per-hour) winds.
Hurricane Delta quickly weakened, but its effects were still serious. The strong winds took out trees and power lines. Delta also dropped nearly 18 inches (46 centimeters) of rain in southwestern Louisiana in just 12 hours, causing flooding and other damage.
