

Grammar: Compound Sentences: and, but, or

Use with Student Edition pages 334–335.

Review the compound sentences using and, but, and or below.

The boys went to the park, and they played a game of baseball.

The boys wanted to play baseball, but it was raining.

They could play baseball, or they could play a game of soccer.

Use the connecting words and, but, or or or to combine the sentences. Write the new sentence.

1. Mary went shopping. She bought a new dress.

Mary went shopping, and she bought a new dress.

---

2. Jake wants to be a doctor. He doesn't like to study.

_____

---

3. The man walked into the store. He asked for a sandwich.

_____

---

4. You can buy it in the store. You can buy it online.

_____

---

5. She wants to take a trip to China. She wants to visit Shanghai.

_____

---

6. He's very busy with work. He still has time for his kids.

_____

---

7. We can go by train. We can go by bus.

_____