

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE. ENGLAND'S NATIONAL WRITER

Hello everyone, boys and girls. Do you know who I am? My name is William and I became the best-known writer in the English language. Perhaps my last name is more recognizable ... SHAKESPEARE! Can you spell it without looking?

I was born in 1564 in England in a city called Stratford-upon-Avon. My father sold leathers and I went to the grammar school where my teachers taught me about poetry, history, Greek, and Latin.

I married a woman named Anne and we had two daughters and a son.

We went to London and I began to work as an actor in a theater company.

In this company there were no women because it was prohibited and young men played the female roles. While I worked as an actor, I wrote plays and very soon they gave me recognition.

Possibly you know some of my plays. The most famous is "Romeo and Juliet".

This play was set in the city of Verona and it told the story of a boy and a girl who fell in love. They chose to live their story in secret because their families were enemies and they paid a high price for their love.

I also wrote poetry. My best-known poem is "Venus and Adonis". A book with 154 of my sonnets was published in 1605.

I died at my fifty-second birthday in my house in Stratford. An anecdote: You can take the letters from "William Shakespeare" and write "I am a weakish speller."

My favorite place in London is "The Globe". The theater that I built together with my colleagues and where I premiered some of my plays.

This theater had capacity for 3,000 spectators. The original theater burned in 1613 but it was rebuilt in 1614.

Today you can visit a reconstruction of the original and discover part of my history.

Thanks to my literature and this theater, I won a lot of money and I bought a great house in Stratford called "New Place".
