

PART 4

1. Do the following sentences refer to static electricity (S) or current electricity (C)?

- a A form of electricity that doesn't flow.
- b An example is an electrical storm.
- c It can be produced and transported in an electrical circuit.
- d It has both a power source and wires.

☐
☐
☐
☐

2. Match the sentence halves.

The light bulb ... ●

The telephone ... ●

The first battery ... ●

Electromagnetic induction ... ●

● ... was developed in 1800.

● ... was invented in 1879.

● ... was invented by Alexander Graham Bell.

● ... was developed in 1831.

3. Select the correct word for each sentence.

- a) Electricity is energy that SITS / FLOWS around us.
- b) An atom is made up of electrons and neutrons inside a nucleus with ELECTRONS / PROTONS on the outside.
- c) Protons have a POSITIVE / NEGATIVE charge.