Alisa and I are at school together. At first, we were (1) – I mean we had lessons together. We had friends in common, but I hardly knew her really. We were just (2) Then we started playing tennis together and after about two months, we got to know each other very well. Now she is a really (3) and we do a lot of things together. We have talked about the future and when we leave home, we'd like to be (4) – I think it would be fun to share a flat with her, at least for a while!
