Task 1. Read and mark as Yes or No. Lasi un atzīmē ar Yes(jā) vai No(nē).

Spider monkeys live in Central and South America. They are omnivores and usually like eating fruit, nuts and flowers. Sometimes they eat bird eggs and insects. Spider monkeys are the ‘acrobats’ of the forest. They are very good at moving through the trees with their hands and tails. They also like hanging from their tails. Spider monkeys are very social animals. They like getting together in groups. They communicate with each other by making loud noises! I wouldn’t like to go near them, though. If a spider monkey sees a human close to it, it screams and barks like a dog! Spider monkeys are easy prey because they are very noisy. Jaguars, pumas and large snakes are their main predators. They are good at surviving by living and sleeping in the trees and almost never coming down.
