The diagram shows a man in a red shirt and yellow pants holding a yellow gift box with a red ribbon, giving it to a young girl in a purple dress. Red arrows point from the man to the box and from the box to the girl. Four red boxes are placed around the scene for labeling: one above the man, one above the girl, one to the left of the girl, and one to the right of the man. Labels with arrows point to these boxes: 'The object' points to the top box, 'The person doing the action' points to the right box, 'The person receiving the direct object' points to the left box, and 'The indirect object' points to the bottom box. On the right side, there are four red boxes containing the words: Subject, Direct object, Indirect object, and Action.
