I'm Danny. I'm 20 and I'm from Dublin. I live at home with my mom and dad. This is my average day:

'Wake up, Danny!' That's Mom at 6.45 a.m.! But I don't get up. I stay in bed for another 30 minutes and listen to music. I get up at quarter after seven and take a shower, but I don't have breakfast. There isn't time! I leave the house at half past seven and my bus is at 7.40. I buy a croissant from a store near my office, and I get to work at half past eight. First, I have my breakfast! Then I start work. I have lunch with my friend Steve. He works in the same office. We have sandwiches in a café or in the park. We go back to the office at half past one and finish work at five. On Tuesday and Thursday, I go to the gym after work. On Wednesday I have an Italian class. I love learning Italian! Our teacher is great! My dad makes dinner – he's a great cook! We eat at seven. Then I go out, and Mom and Dad watch TV in the living room. I go to bed at about twelve.
