

Charlie Winston-hello alone

Hello, alone, it's you and me again,
How can we pretend we'..... never?
Hello, alone you might as well come in,
We'.....bets for so long now.

I never told you that I want you,
I thought I had you out of my head,
But ever time she leaves me, refusing to believe me,
You're always there.

And even though I don't invite you,
And your presence is a pain,
You always let me be just who I am,
Until I'm glad to bring back that refrain again,

Hello, alone, it's you and me again,
How can we pretend we'..... never?
Hello, alone you might as well come in,
We'.....hands for too long now
I even tried to re-convince you,
But it was just no use at all,
Cause every time I climbed inside your mind,
I saw the mirror on the wall.
