Connectors include:

- furthermore
- additionally - in addition to
- similarly – similar to
- likewise - like
- also
- and
- as well as
- including
- along with
- together with
- with

Pronouns:

- these those
- they
- it
- there

When comparing similar objects or things, conjunctions can be used to like clauses and ideas together. The connectors and conjunctions on this page are all used to compare like objects. They can also be used to link a series of ideas or concepts about a topic or thing. Object Pronouns are used to link ideas without making the links repetitive.

James has red hair. James has a fair complexion. James is tall. James is athletic. James is a good basketball player. James has a friend Alex. Alex is athletic. Alex plays basketball.

Along with having red hair and a fair complexion, James is tall. Like his friend Alex, James is athletic and also plays basketball.

The Aral Sea is located in Central Asia. The Aral Sea is the fourth largest lake in the world. The Aral Sea has an area of 67,300 square kilometres. The Aral Sea is fed by two of the biggest rivers in Central Asia, the Amu Darya and the Styr Darya. The Aral Sea is an important economic region. Almost 20 percent of the Soviet Union's fish came from the Aral Sea. 40,000 people live and work near the Aral Sea. People use the water in the two rivers for agriculture. The water is used to grow crops like wheat, barley and maize. The Aral sea is also an important area for recreation. Swimming, boating and diving are popular sports.

Improve the text so that it flowsbetter. On the black lines use connectors from the list. On the red lines use pronouns

The Aral Sea is located in Central Asia ____ is the fourth largest lake in the world. _____ , ____ has an area of 67,300 square kilometres. The Aral Sea is fed by two of the biggest rivers in Central Asia, the Amu Darya and the Styr Darya. ____ is an important economic region __with__ almost 40,000 people living and working in the area. _____ providing 20 percent of the Soviet Union's fish, the region is an important for agriculture __with__ water from the lake and rivers being used to grow crops like wheat, barley and maize. _____,the Aral Sea is an important recreation area __with__ swimming boating and diving being popular sports _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS