NAME: _____

Put the plots correctly in the table below.

d. FALLING ACTION
tells the next events

a. EXPOSITION
introduces characters & setting

c. CLIMAX
is the most exciting part (turning point)

b. RISING ACTION
tells how the main character encounters trouble

e. RESOLUTION
tells the final outcome

HANSEL AND GRETEL

All of a sudden, the door creaked open and an old lady appeared. "Who is eating my house?" asked the lady.
"We are sorry," said Hansel and Gretel.
Cackling, the old lady replied, "Don't worry, help yourself to whatever you want. Then come inside for a nap," she said.

The next day, the old lady put Hansel in a cage and forced Gretel to do the house chores. Hansel and Gretel soon realised she was actually a witch.

"I will not wait any longer, Gretel! Go and start the fire. I am going to cook Hansel!" shouted the evil witch.

Every day, the witch fed Hansel lots of food. She wanted to make him fat, as she planned to eat him.

Once upon a time, there lived a very poor woodcutter, his wife, and his two children, Hansel and Gretel. They lived in a tiny cottage at the end of the village.

As the witch moved closer to the oven, Gretel gathered all her strength and pushed her. The witch fell into the oven.

"I did it! I did it!" screamed Gretel with great excitement. She rushed to the cage and freed Hansel. Hansel hugged his sister. He was proud of her. She was his hero.

Hansel grabbed his sister's hand and they ran towards the door. As they were running out, they stumbled upon a room full of treasure. They ...

LIVEWORKSHEETS

The next morning, Hansel and Gretel were taken to the forest.

"Children wait here. Your father and I are going to collect some firewood," said the stepmother. Hansel, however, knew that they would never return.

Scared and all alone, Hansel and Gretel walked deeper into the forest. They were cold, hungry, and tired. Suddenly, they saw a beautiful but curious looking cottage. They ran to the cottage. To their surprise, it was made of chocolates, candies, cakes, and sweets. Hungrily they gobbled down chocolate bricks from the walls and the candy knob from the door.

LIVEWORKSHEETS