

Table 1:

Read the information in the table below. The information in the table is from the sample essay in Let's Discover.

No.	A	B	C	D	E
	Words	Meaning in context	Synonyms	Phrases/ Idiomatic Expressions	Examples of use
1.	forgetful	likely not to remember	- absent-minded - scatter brained - unmindful	mind like a sieve	I am sorry I can't remember your birthday because I have a mind like a sieve .
2.	blame	feel that someone or something is responsible for a fault or wrongdoing	fault	point the finger at someone	Do not point your finger at me because I did not take your money.
3.	expensive	cost a lot of money	- costly - pricey	- cost an arm and a leg - pay through the nose	My new BMW car has cost me an arm and a leg . I have to pay through my nose just for an iPhone.
4.	comfortable	provide a pleasant feeling	- snug - cosy	as comfortable as an old shoe	My old house may seem small, but it is as comfortable as an old shoe .

No.	A	B	C	D	E
	Words	Meaning in context	Synonyms	Phrases/ Idiomatic Expressions	Examples of use
5.	bored	lack interest	- uninterested - unconcerned	bored to death	This movie is too long that I am bored to death. The movie was so long that I was bored to death .
6.	discover	to find information of a place or an object	- explore - find	make one's way	He started to make his way to the airport. They decided to explore the public library.
7.	cafe	a small restaurant selling light meals and drinks.	- snack bar - coffee bar		The snack bar in IOI Mall serves delicious cheese cakes.
8.	hanging out	spending a lot of time in a place or with someone	- frequenting - mingling	rub shoulders	He rub shoulders with the best of society.
9.	swore	promised to do something	- vowed - promised		He promised his teacher that he would excel in English.

Fill in the blanks with suitable words or phrases from Column C in Table I of Let's Learn.

QUESTION : Remember a time when you forgot something important. End your story with, "...that I would not be forgetful again."

I am a _____ person. I always forget my things when travelling. I guess I never took it seriously. It has reached the point where it has become more than just a minor problem in my life. I could _____ it on my father because he is a forgetful person too.

I had a black jacket once. It was _____ and felt very _____ with lots of pockets. I loved to travel with my black jacket.

Last year, I was in Changi Airport for five hours, and I felt _____. I decided to _____ as many places as possible within the five hours. While walking, I found a nice _____ nearby and decided to have a drink.

After a few hours of _____ at the cafe, I made some new friends. Then, it was time to board my flight. Suddenly, I realised that my favourite jacket was missing. I thought that I must have left it somewhere in the airport. I searched all over, but I could not find it. I was sad as it was my favourite jacket. I _____ that I would not be forgetful again.