New phones

Today, we're looking at three new mobile phones on the market. The first is the XP121Z. It's a beautiful model. It's the 1 light / lighter / lightest of the three, at only 80 grams. At £200, it isn't 2 cheap / dirty / heavy and it's harder to use 3 of / from / than the other two phones, but when you know what to do, it's great.

The SP25X is a nice phone. It's 4 cheap / cheapest / cheaper than the XP121Z, with a price of £85. It's a little bit 5 heavier / bigger / taller – 120g – but that's still nice and light. It's 6 bad / easy / clean to use. I like it.

The Z100 is a very 7 old / older / oldest phone, and it's quite 8 big / bigger / biggest. It's the 9 heavy / heaviest / heavier of the three phones, at 530g. It isn't 10 easy / light / cheap to use. It's very 11 hard / harder / hardest to see the numbers. It has one good feature, the price! It's the 12 hardest / lightest / cheapest – £5.99!

We say: Buy the SP25X
