

Making, accepting and refusing invitations

Watch and listen to the video and complete the conversation.

- * Mary! doing today?
- * Hi Erik! . How about you?
- * So far so good. Hey Mary, I was wondering if you to come to a party night.
- * Sure, I to come to your party.

- * Wonderful! you know to get to my house?
- * If you would text me your address, that would help.
- * Sure, no problem. anyone you to bring with you to the party?
- * I really to bring my friends Dany and Mika.
- * Sure, bring them along.
- * Thank you. can we come over?
- * We will have barbecue too. So, anytime 12 would fine.
- * Sounds like a fun party! I will call you we leave our place.
- * Sure!

Read the invitation and complete the information box. Use prepositions.

What?	A
Who?
Where?	At
When?
What time?

Pay attention to the following sentences. Write 1-12 to make a conversation.

I'm throwing a party on Friday.

Not a lot. What about you?

I'll definitely try to make it the next time.

All right. I'll see you next time.

Hey, what's good with you?

My family and I are going to dinner.

Do you think you can come?

I was hoping you would come.

I'm sorry. I'm already doing something this Friday.

That sounds like fun.

What are you going to be doing?

I'd better see you there.

Listen to the conversation and complete the dialogue.

Molly: What should we do for your birthday?

Paul: I know. I to have a party and something

Molly: OK. are you ?

Paul: My and a few

Molly: go to the beach? We a picnic.

Paul: I'd rather something more exciting.

Molly: OK. see... we could go to the

Paul: Hmm... I've done that several times before. I to something different.

Molly: Hey, here's an idea.... paintball?

Paul: ! Everyone will that.

Molly: Great. I'll email the invitations.

Paul: Cool. Thanks.

