

12. Do you have any questions for us?

This is your chance, face to face, to find out about company culture, company history, your role and almost anything you can imagine asking.

Prepare these questions before the interview. Write a few questions you can ask that will really show your interest in the position and impress your interviewer.

[illegible]