

Articles

Indefinite articles

a an

Indefinite articles

a a pretty dress an an apple

one thing in general

The definite article

The dress is pink in colour.
The children are playing with a ball.
The water is not fit for drinking.

The definite article something in particular

The dress is pink in colour.
The children are playing with a ball.
The water is not fit for drinking.

The definite article something in particular

The dress is pink in colour.
countable
The children are playing with a ball.
countable
The water is not fit for drinking.
uncountable

A, an, and the are also adjectives.

A, an, and the are also adjectives.
They come before words that name a noun or another adjective.

The

used with plural names of people groups places

The used with proper names of books oceans seas rivers canals bridges mountain ranges

The

do not use with the proper name

person country state lake mountain

An

used before words with a vowel sound

Join the correct articles together

 That is a pretty dress.  	 This is an apple.
 This is an apple.  	 That is a pretty dress.
 The dress is pink in colour.  	 The children are playing with a ball.
 The children are playing with a ball.  	 The dress is pink in colour.

The water is not fit for drinking.

The water is not fit for drinking.

Mount Everest is in the Himalayas.

Vembanad Lake is in Kerala.

Vembanad Lake is in Kerala.

Mount Everest is in the Himalayas.

The train will arrive in an hour from now.

He is an honest man.

He is an honest man.

The train will arrive in an hour from now.

