

WE WANT YOU!

Renseigner/interroger sur ce que quelqu'un veut faire ou veut que quelqu'un d'autre fasse

|                                                                                   |                                                                                   |                                                                                     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  |  |  |
| Subject pronouns                                                           | Object pronouns                                                            | POSSESSIVE determiners                                                              |
| I                                                                                 | .....                                                                             | MY                                                                                  |
| .....                                                                             | YOU                                                                               | .....                                                                               |
| HE/SHE/IT                                                                         | ...../...../.....                                                                 | ...../...../.....                                                                   |
| .....                                                                             | .....                                                                             | OUR                                                                                 |
| YOU                                                                               | .....                                                                             | .....                                                                               |
| .....                                                                             | .....                                                                             | .....                                                                               |

Pour dire ce que quelqu'un veut que quelqu'un d'autre fasse :

SUJET+ WANT (conjugué)+

identité de la personne

dont on veut qu'elle fasse qq chose

+TO+

BASE VERBALE

(action attendue)

(+compléments)

PUT THE WORDS IN THE CORRECT ORDER TO SAY OR ASK WHAT THE SUBJECTS WANT /DON'T

WANTSOMEONE TO DO

Remets les mots dans l'ordre pour dire /demander ce que les sujets veulent que quelqu'un d'autre fasse ou pas PONCTUATION

a) want fight Mrs Bueller doesn't to her children

..... !

b) her teacher repeat Kate wants to

..... !

c) to she her does want him help ?

..... ?

d) us she with wants to come her .
.....

e) to his do his mother want him does homework ?
..... ?

Choose the missing words words. Retrouve les pronoms personnels et les déterminants possessifs manquants.

Katie's mum wants ..... to brush ..... teeth before she goes to bed.
Our teachers want ..... to keep ..... masks on.
Bill and Mary's dad want ..... to make ..... bed every morning.
My parents want ..... to respect ..... teachers.
John's grandfather wants ..... to take ..... shoes off.
Linda's brother wants ..... to wash ..... hands.
Your mum wants ..... to do ..... homework.

Say what the subjects want / doesn't want someone to do

Dis ce que les sujets veulent / ne veulent pas que quelqu'un fasse

John, do your homework before playing .

Mr and Mrs Leach .....

Kate and Peter, come for dinner tomorrow.

Mrs Merton .....

Listen and look at the board, Jonathan.

The teacher.....

Please, keep your mask on ,my friends..

Mark .....