Earth's Rotation

DIRECTIONS: Draw a line to complete the sentence correctly.

Daytime occurs when the part of Earth where you are . . .	once every 24 hours.
It is night when the part of Earth where you are . . .	night.
Earth spins on its axis. . .	is turned away from the Sun.
Twenty-four hours equals . .	one day.
When the Sun is shining on the opposite side of Earth from you, it is . . .	the sun is heating Earth's surface.
When the Sun is shining on you, it is . . .	is pointing towards the Sun.
At night, your side of Earth cools down, because . . .	the Sun is no longer heating Earth's surface.
It is usually warmer in the daytime, because . . .	daytime.

LIVEWORKSHEETS