Paser ran along the road across the desert. The sun was high in the sky when he came to an oasis. He stopped for a moment because it was so beautiful. He could hear camels drinking the clear water. A frog was sitting on a rock near the water. A large bird flew between the trees. Flowers were growing all around the pool. They were red and yellow. There were dates in the palm trees. The water was green and fresh. Paser could not stay. He ran along the road and out into the desert again
