

NOTES ABOUT CLASSICISM IN MUSIC

by Julia Cea

Classicism is a period of [red box] between Baroque and Romanticism. The three most important composers during this period were, in chronological order: [red box], [red box] and [red box].

Haydn was considered the [red box] of the symphony because he composed more than [red box]

Mozart was a [red box]. He wrote his first composition when he was 4 years old.

Beethoven was the first [red box] composer. He was a [red box] because he invented a new musical [red box]

Beethoven

romantic

pioneer

Mozart

father

language

Haydn

Transition

One hundred

Prodigy child