Timun mas

Long time ago in a small village, lived an old woman who named Mbok Rondho. She lived alone, her husband died. She wanted to have a child. So, one day, she met Buto Ijo to ask a child. Buto Ijo gived her cucumber seed. He said if the cucumber seed was planted, it will grow to be a big cucumber. And in the big cucumber, there was a beautiful baby. Buto Ijo said again, "I want to take her when she is 16 years old!" Mbok Rondho allowed.

She planted the seed in front of her house. In the next day she found a big cucumber in her yard, and when she opened that cucumber there was a beautiful baby named Timun Emas. Mbok Rondho was holding the baby and sang "I love you, you love me, we are happy family, with a great big hug, and a kiss from me to you, won't you say you love me to?" Timun Emas grew to be a beautiful lady. She was 16 years old. One day her mom said, "Timun Emas, you must go. Buto Ijo want to take you! Bring this terasi and go quickly!!" Timun Emas was very shocked, "What happend mom? I don't know, please tell me.." Mbok Rondho explained her meeting with Buto Ijo, Timun Emas said "Ok mom, don't worry! I'll go quickly!"

In the next day, Timun emas went to the jungle. Oh yeah, she didn't forget to bring terasi to conquer Buto Ijo. In the jungle, Buto Ijo searched her. "Timun Emas, Timun Emas! Where are you?" Timun Emas was very scared. So when Buto Ijo found her, she threw her terasi. And suddenly Buto Ijo sank in a muddy lake. Finally Buto Ijo died there.
Finally, Timun Emas came back to her house and lived happily with her mother.

Finally, she was driven to the palace. The king's son was overjoyed to see her again. They were married and live happily ever after.

Cinderella

One day, the two step sister received an invitation to the ball that the king's son was going to give at the palace. They were excited about this and spent so much time choosing the dresses they would wear. At last, the day of the ball came, and away went the sisters to it. Cinderella could not help crying after they had left. "Why are crying, Cinderella?" a voice asked. She looked up and saw her fairy godmother standing beside her, "because I want so much to go to the ball" said Cinderella. "Well" said the godmother, "you've been such a cheerful, hardworking, uncomplaining girl that I am going to see that you do go to the ball".

Magically, the fairy godmother changed a pumpkin into a fine coach and mice into a coachman and two footmen. Her godmother tapped Cinderella's raged dress with her wand, and it became a beautiful ball gown. Then she gave her a pair of pretty glass slippers. "Now, Cinderella", she said; "You must leave before midnight". Then away she drove in her beautiful coach.

Cinderella was having a wonderfully good time. She danced again and again with the king's son. Suddenly the clock began to strike twelve, she ran toward the door as quickly as she could. In her hurry, one of her glass slipper was left behind.

A few days later, the king' son proclaimed that he would marry the girl whose feet fitted the glass slipper. Her step sisters tried on the slipper but it was too small for them, no matter how hard they squeezed their toes into it. In the end, the king's page let Cinderella try on the slipper. She stuck out her foot and the page slipped the slipper on. It fitted perfectly.

Once upon a time, there was a young girl named Cinderella. She lived with her step mother and two step sisters.

The step mother and sisters were conceited and bad tempered. They treated Cinderella very badly. Her step mother made Cinderella do the hardest works in the house; such as scrubbing the floor, cleaning the pot and pan and preparing the food for the family. The two step sisters, on the other hand, did not work about the house. Their mother gave them many handsome dresses to wear.

Pinocchio and Geppetto escaped on a raft. The puppet helped his father to swim in the middle of the waves: and they finally reached the shore! But as soon as they arrived Pinocchio, for the great effort fainted. Grief-stricken, Geppetto took him home. The Blue Fairy, awoke him and, as promised, rewarded his courage and his goodness, by transforming Pinocchio into a real boy.

Title

Once there was a carpenter called Geppetto. He made a wooden puppet and called him Pinocchio. "How nice it would be if it were a real baby!".

Orientation

That night, a good fairy heard him and made his wish to become real. "Awake, wood inanimate, now you've got a soul!" she made her magic spell touching Pinocchio with her magic wand. "Pinocchio, be always a good, brave and a selfless boy, " said the Fairy, " and one day you'll be a real boy!" Then, she addressed to Jiminy Cricket: "I appoint you guide and counsellor of Pinocchio, " she added, before disappearing in a thousand flashes of light. Imagine the delight of Geppetto when he discovered that his little man of wood could move and talk! The next morning he sent him to school like a real boy. "Goodbye, son, come back soon!" Pinocchio was a little naughty so he disobeying her father went to the terrible Eater, a puppeteer who promised to make him famous. He enjoyed a lot of singing and dancing with the other puppets. But, when the show was over, Eater shut him in a cage. Suddenly, there appeared the Blue Fairy: "Why did not you go to school?" she asked. Pinocchio answered with a lie and his nose began to grow. Only when he told the truth, the Fairy freed him and his nose was back to normal. On the way home, Pinocchio saw a coach load of kids cheering. The coachman told him that he was directed to Toyland, where the kids could do whatever they wanted. "Pinocchio, come back!" Jiminy Cricket ran after him. But the puppet would not listen to him. There Pinocchio met a new boy Candlewick: The two ate as many sweets as they could and enjoyed themselves very much. But he soon discovered that in Toyland the lazy and rude kids were turned into donkeys. When it began to spring two ears and long tail, Pinocchio ran desperately, followed by his faithful friend. Jiminy Cricket Together, then returned to the house of Geppetto, but they found none. "Who knows what that happened to him!" At that moment, a dove brought them a message: while Geppetto was looking for Pinocchio everywhere, he was swallowed by a whale and now he was his prisoner. "I want to save him!" decided the puppet. Arriving at the sea, he dived an dived till he found his father in the belly of the whale. But how to get out of there? So he lit a fire and the smoke made the whale sneeze so strong that, she opened its mouth.
