

Name:

Read the following statements and place either True or False in the space provided.

1. There were no previous inhabitants of the Western Hemisphere, now known as "The Americas," before the coming of the Europeans.
2. Paleo means "ancient."
3. Huge animals, now extinct, were known as mega-fauna.
4. The connection between Asia and North America was known as the connecting Ice Bridge.
5. Nomads were hunter-gatherers who had portable homes and were in constant movement for food.
6. The migration of people across this connection was a major, one-time occurrence.
7. Native Americans is a term that can refer to all indigenous groups of the Western Hemisphere now known as The Americas.
8. The Mayas were nomads who settled in what is now South America.

9. The Incas were attributed to have performed risky surgeries, for example brain surgeries.
10. Arawak and Carib groups initially inhabited most of the northern part of South America however, they eventually migrated to the Caribbean islands.

BONUS

What is the name of the ice-bridge which connected the Eastern and the Western Hemisphere during the last ice-age?