Agriculture is the world's most important industry. It provides us with almost all our food. It also supplies materials for two other basic human needs – clothing and shelter. In addition, agriculture provides materials in making many industrial products, such as paints and medicines. About half of the word's workers are employed in agriculture – far more than in any other industry.

Agriculture is one of the world's oldest industries. It began about 10,000 years ago in the Middle East. By that time, certain Middle East tribes had discovered how to grow plants from seeds and how to raise animals in captivity. Having mastered these skills, they could begin to practice agriculture. Before the development of agriculture, peo[le got all their food by gathering wild plants, hunting and fishing. They had to search for food continually, which left them little time for activities. Buts as agriculture develop the arts, crafts, trades and other activities of civilized life. Agriculture, therefore, not only greatly affected the food supply bu also made civilization possible.
