

Analyze the picture of the skin and answer the following questions.

1. The outer layer of the skin is _____.
2. It is known as the layer directly below the epidermis _____.
3. Beneath the dermis is the _____, a layer of connective tissue that stores fat and helps the body in retaining heat.
4. The _____ is a tubular structure located in the skin whose function is to and produces sweat.
5. The _____ is the opening upon the skin of the hair follicle, which extends downward through several layers of skin.