Irregular comparatives and superlatives

My cooking is	good.	bad.
Volleyball is	better	worse	than basketball.
Green peppers are	the best	the worst	pizza topping.

The words good and bad have different comparative and superlative forms.

1 Read. Circle the correct word.

I think my dog Rover is the best / better dog in the world! He's my worst / best friend. He's smarter than other dogs. He's also worse / good at swimming. Rover can swim across the river, no problem! He loves playing ball. He's better / the worst at catching than I am. He's faster, too.

But sometimes Rover can be the best / bad. He loves eating my shoes! This is not a good / better thing. Now my shoes look the worse / the worst of all the students in my class. Rover may do bad / worst things, but I still think that he's the better / best pet!
