"That wasn't a god," said the Doctor. "It was an alien from another planet. And those were his warriors. They took your men, and I lost my friend."

The Doctor is talking to Viking villagers. When he and Clara arrive in a quiet wood in Scotland in the TARDIS, in the year 850, they meet some Vikings. The Vikings are not friendly. They take the Doctor and Clara with them to their home across the sea. But some aliens arrive at the Viking village at the same time, and they are looking for Viking warriors. The aliens take the best fighters – and Clara – to their spaceship.

How can the villagers fight the aliens? Will the Doctor see Clara again? And who is Ashildr? The Doctor thinks that he knows that young Viking woman – but now? This is his first time in the Viking village!
