Ferns 吳郭魚 白鷺 蕨類

There are many different kinds of ferns and their leaves (樹葉) look different.

Ferns grow in places where it is wet and shady (陰影). That is why we often see them under trees and in forests.

Some ferns are very big, but the ferns in Dahu Park are smaller. Lots of small animals like frogs and insects hide under their leaves.

Ferns don't taste delicious for most animals, but sometimes rabbits, bats and mice will eat the ferns.

LIVEWORKSHEETS