

G-Dragon - a Fashion Icon

Born and raised in Seoul, South Korea, Kwon Ji-yong began his singing _____ at the age of five. As a _____, Kwon Ji-yong discovered American hip-hop artists Wu Tang Clan and decided he wanted to try rapping. He joined a hip-hop _____ who gave him the name "G-Dragon" because his original name "Ji" sounds like the English letter "G" and "Yong" is Korean for "dragon". After six years of _____ under YG _____, G-Dragon made his _____ as the leader of the group Big Bang in 2006.

training career debut duo entertainment teen

Big Bang's first _____ was a _____ success, selling 48,000 copies in Korea. Their _____ came with the release of their EP Always, which included the number one song "Lies". Since then, Big Bang has had a _____ of hits and continues to gain in _____ in Asia and the world. In April 2015, they _____ ed off a world tour that is expected to visit at _____ 15 countries, including China, Japan and the United States.

popularity kick release least moderate breakthrough string

As well as being the leader of Big Bang, G-Dragon also has a successful solo career and is a fashion icon who often _____ s fashion _____ s in South Korea. While _____ ing his solo _____ Heartbreaker in 2009, G-Dragon _____ d his hair _____. This gained popularity among his fans and went on to become one of the top hairstyles of the year. In _____, he often wears bandanas, which has become a trend with teenagers and are often called "Big Bang _____ yes". In 2008, G-Dragon won the Korean "Style Icon of 2008 Award" and 2015, he was selected as one of the Business of Fashion's 500 Global Fashion Leaders.

dye promote addition influence scarf trend blonde album