3 Choose the correct verbs in the report.

Aaron took part in a half-marathon last weekend. As he's 19, this may not sound a great achievement. However, in Aaron's case it was, because last year he was told that he [1] wasn't able to walk / might not be able to walk again.

Aaron had fallen off his bike when cycling home from school. The street was dark and it was a little icy, and he [2] couldn't / wasn't able to control his bike. He was left lying on the road with serious injuries. Luckily, Aaron [3] managed to find / could find his phone and call for an ambulance. He spent several weeks in hospital and he [4] wasn't able to take / couldn't take an important exam because his injuries meant he [5] couldn't write / didn't manage to write or use a computer. However, he made an unexpectedly good recovery and after three months he [6] managed to walk / could walk quite well. When he finished the half-marathon, he told his friends that he hopes he'll be able to run in a full marathon next year.
