

Listening Practice

I. Listen to the news about "Deep-Sea Creatures" and fill in the gaps with no more than 2 words.

Scientists have found dozens of strange-looking deep-sea creatures off the (1) _____ of Australia. The underwater beasts live in total darkness four kilometres below the (2) _____ of the ocean. The researchers used a special submarine that could cope with the crushing (3) _____ of being so deep in the ocean. The difficult environment and conditions mean it is a difficult place to (4) _____. Researcher Dr Tim O'Hara said: "Australia's deep-sea environment is larger in size than the mainland, and until now, almost nothing was known about life [there]. We're really excited about the (5) _____ that we've made and are thrilled that we can now share them with the Australian and international public."

The scientists are surprised at how odd-looking many of the sea creatures are. The research team gave them some similarly odd names. They discovered a red coffin fish, a cookie cutter shark, zombie worms, tripod fish and (6) _____. Some of these creatures may be new species. Researchers are particularly interested in the coffin fish. They say it has blue eyes, red fins, and a unique method for catching (7) _____ in the dark. The scientists said it uses a "fishing rod tipped with a fluffy bait on top of its head". The researchers also found, "highly concerning levels of rubbish" including, "debris from the days when steamships plied our waters". They said: "The (8) _____ has 200 years of rubbish on it."
