

ORDERING FOOD AND DRINKS

Help!

A polite way to ask for a pizza:
I would like a pizza, please.

A/ Read and listen to this short dialogue.

- a: "I would like a regular pizza, please."
- b: "Would you like extra ingredients?"
- a: "Yes, please. I would like ham and onion."
- b: "Here you are. That's £9!"

Regular Pizza £8

Extra ingredients 50p

ham / mushroom / cheese / peas /
onion / bacon / olives

B/ Match the phrase with its translation.

I would like

Ça fait 9 Livres Sterling

Here you are

Aimeriez-vous....? / Aimerais-tu....?

That's £9

Tenez

Would you like....?

J'aimerais

C/ Listen to this short dialogue. Are the sentences True or False?

The man would like a large pizza.

True

False

He would like extra ingredients.

True

False

He would like cheese and bacon.

True

False

He would like mushrooms and bacon.

True

False

The pizza is £19.

True

False

D/ Your turn: Order a smoothie. Add apples and bananas as extra ingredients.

a: I would like a , please.

b: "Would you like extra ingredients?"

a: "Yes, please. "

b: "Here you are. That's £5!"

Regular Smoothie £4

E/ Now take the order. Answer the customer (= client)

Ask him/her if he would like extra ingredients.

Tell him/her how much the order is.

Extra ingredients 50p

strawberries / pear /
apple / banana

a: "I would like a regular smoothie, please."

b: ".....?"

a: "Yes, please. I would like strawberries and pears."

b: ".....!"