Home of the Carnival

There are carnivals in many places all over the world. Probably the most famous carnival is in Rio de Janeiro in Brazil. It's in February or March every year.

Many people travel to Rio to watch the carnival. About five million people celebrate in the city. People decorate the streets and wear special costumes. Everything is bright and colourful.

Samba music is very popular at the carnival in Rio. There are many different samba groups – about 200 in Rio. Each group decorates a float with beautiful colours. They play big samba drums and dance through the streets.

It's one big party for the city. The party doesn't stop at night! Many people dance all day and all night – they don't sleep at all. And the party isn't one day – it's four days!

In some parts of Rio, people's pets wear costumes too. Dogs wear colourful hats and jackets, like their owners.
