

1 Watch. Read and write.

take a bow actors applause dancers director audience

audience

2 Watch. Read and write. Use the words from Activity 1.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 This is the person who tells everyone what to do. (n.)
_____ | 2 This is what the actors all do at the end of the performance. (v.)
_____ |
| 3 This the word for the people who watch the performance. (n.)
_____ | 4 These are the people who dance in the performance. (n.)
_____ |
| 5 These are the people who act in the performance. (n.)
_____ | 6 This is what the audience does at the end of the performance. They give the actors a round of ... (n.)
_____ |

3 Watch. Correct the wrong words in the sentences.

- The East End in London is often called Theatreland.
The West End in London is often called Theatreland.
- All of the theatres close at night-time in Theatreland.

- In a theatre, the audience sits in armchairs to watch the performance.

- At the end of the performance, the director gives a round of applause.
