COPPER CANYON MEXICO

Discover what Mexico has to offer. You can find rainforests, deserts, high mountains and dark caves as well as all kinds of plants and animals. Explore some of Mexico's most fantastic natural scenery in the Copper Canyon, which is located in the state of Chihuahua. This is home to the Raramuri people, who live in the deep valleys, where they follow a traditional way of life.

One of the top sights is The Basaseachic Waterfall, which is the second highest waterfall in Mexico. It is surrounded by thick forest and hiking paths offer beautiful views of the falls.

To help you explore the Copper Canyon, you can hire a tour guide, whose knowledge of the area will make your experience even more interesting.

STEEPHILL COVE UK

Visit Steephill Cove on the Isle of Wight, a small island off the south coast of England. The cove is hidden between high, rocky cliffs. To get there, you have to go on foot along a narrow path, which takes you down a steep hill to the village. When you get to the bottom, you will see a colourful bay with fishing boats floating near the sandy shore. Children love climbing over the rocks looking for rock pools, where they can find all kinds of small animals and swim in the clear waters.
