READING COMPREHENSION

1. Read the story. Replace the underlined words with 'get' in the correct form. Sometimes you need to add a preposition.

THE STRANGE TELEGRAM

It was dark when the famous detective Sherlock Holmes 1 arrived at _____ Trafalgar Square with Dr. Watson.

"Why have we come here, Holmes?" asked Watson.

"Because I 2 received _____ a telegram this morning," said Holmes. "It said, 'Come to Trafalgar Square at midnight. You will see something interesting.' Watson, can you 3 fetch _____ my gun? It's in my bag."

Watson was surprised, "But why do you want your gun, Holmes?" And he was worried, "This is 4 becoming _____ dangerous!"

"Watson, are you a man or a mouse?" said Holmes angrily.

"I'm sorry, Holmes," said Watson nervously. "Here's your gun. Is it new?"

"Yes, I 5 bought _____ it at Samson's yesterday," Holmes replied.

"Look, Holmes! There's a man with a mask. He's 6 entering _____ that bus!" shouted Watson. "And he has a bomb in his hand."
