

How to Make Applesauce

Applesauce is easy to make. First, wash some apples. Ask an adult to peel and cut them. Put the apple slices in a big pot. Add water. The adult can help you cook the apples until they are soft. Next, mash them up. Cool the applesauce in the refrigerator. Then, it's time to eat!

Why did the author write this text?

- A to tell readers that applesauce is good to eat.
- B to tell readers how to make applesauce
- C to tell readers a funny story about kids that make applesauce

Drag the clues that tell why the author wrote this text into the space.

Four empty rectangular boxes with dashed blue borders, stacked vertically, intended for dragging clues into.

Put the applesauce in a big pot.

Ask an adult to peel & cut them.

It's time to eat.

First, wash some apples.

Next, mash them up.

Apples are different colors.