care   appreciated   generous   year   easy   work
need   hearts   special   volunteer   thank   quality   time

Dedicated                      like yours
Are not so                      to find.
It takes a                      person to be
So                      and kind.

To                      so much for your fellow man
Is a                      all too rare.
Yet you give of your                      and talents,
For all in                      to share.

So                      you for being a                      ,
We're privileged to                      with you.
We want you to know how                      you are,
Not just today, but the whole                      through.
