

Press the wound if it does not stop bleeding with clean cotton wool.
Cover the wound with gauze. However, it is not necessary to cover it if the wound is not very large.
Wash the wound with clean water. Then gently wipe to dry it with cloth or cotton wool.
Take the patient to hospital in case of unstoppable bleeding, infected wound or deep wound and pain.
Soak alcohol on the cotton wool and apply around the wound. Then apply disinfectants, such as betadine and iodine tincture, on the wound.
