

Use these words to complete the statements:

offspring	process	participation
sex cells	different	egg
sperm	individuals

REPRODUCTION

=   that organisms use to create  

SEXUAL REPRODUCTION

=   of two   of   sexes

2. What do men and women produce in the process of sexual reproduction?

.....

3. The male sex cells are called .....

and the female sex cells are called .....

..... is fertilizing an .....

SEXUAL CHARACTERISTICS

4. Fill the table

PRIMARY SEXUAL CHARACTERISTICS	SECONDARY SEXUAL CHARACTERISTICS
present at	d..... during

5. Who reproduce sexually?    

Who reproduce asexually?    

WORD BANK

penis	vagina	beard
organs	puberty
enlarged breasts	changed voice
pubic hair	ovaries
develop	birth
mammals	humans
bacteria	mushrooms

6. What do men and women produce in the process of reproduction? Words in the frame will help you:

→ → sex cell
 → → sex cell

sperm	egg	men
male	women	female

What are the differences between the two kinds of sex cells?

male sex cells

spherical and immobile cells

small and long cells

have a tail that helps them move

female sex cells

stores nourishment

egg

sperm

Biological Life Cycle of Humans

Word bank

OVARIES

ADULT

SPERM

TESTICLE

BABY

FETUS

ZYGO

The diagram illustrates the human life cycle and the stages of development:

- Meiosis: Represented by a horizontal line with orange boxes labeled "Meiosis" on both ends. Arrows point from the line to the TESTICLE and SPERM stages.
- Fertilization: Represented by a horizontal line with orange boxes labeled "Fertilization" on both ends. Arrows point from the line to the EGG and ZYGOTE stages.
- Stages of Development:
  - SPERM: A blue oval with a tail.
  - TESTICLE: A pink oval.
  - ADULT: Male and female human silhouettes.
  - SPERM: A blue oval with a tail.
  - SPERM: A blue oval with a tail.
  - EGG: A blue oval with a red "X" inside.
  - ZYGOTE: A blue rectangle.
  - BABY: A small orange baby silhouette.
  - FETUS: A pink oval containing a baby silhouette.
  - ADULT: Male and female human silhouettes.