THE MUSICAL DONKEY

A Donkey and a Jackal were good friends. They went together for search of food.

One night they found a garden full of ripe cucumbers. They went in and ate as much as they could. The donkey said to the Jackal "the moon is shinning I feel like singing".

The jackal told you can sing as much as you like. I shall wait for you out side of the garden.

The donkey began to sing. The farmers heard his loud braying. They all rushed there with weapons. The donkey was still at the garden. The farmers beat him.

Moral of the story:-

Never think as foolish.
