

Useful vocabulary and phrases - Describing a book

memorable	hilarious	uninspiring	credible	thought-provoking	page-turner
heart-wrenching	intense	evocative	predictable	audio book	eBook
visionary	hardback	controversial	paperback

Ex.A: Complete the sentences below using the correct form of the words or phrases above. Use each word once only. There are FOUR words which you do NOT need to use.

1. It was such a(n) that I read the entire novel in two days.
2. Sanderson's new book is so that I laughed out loud on a busy train full of commuters.
3. I don't think the plot is as it is way too unrealistic and unlikely.
4. The story was of a past era where society was less commercial and stressful.
5. I prefer novels but they aren't practical when you are travelling because they are too bulky and heavy to carry.
6. At one time, his books were considered to be so that people used to burn them in the streets.
7. It was a(n) true-story that reduced me to tears.
8. I'm afraid it was too for me; I guessed how the story would end when I was still halfway through the book.
9. I often fall asleep while listening to a(n) at bedtime.
10. The writer is truly a(n) who presents us with the hope of a much brighter future and suggests ways in which this can be achieved.
11. It's a fantastic book but her writing style is so that I have to have regular breaks to take it all in.
12. I've never read such a(n) novel, it was completely pointless in my humble opinion.